

Accessibility Guide for RSPB Otmoor

otmoor.admin@rspb.org.uk, 01865 351163, <https://www.rspb.org.uk/reserves-and-events/reserves-a-z/otmoor/>

Contact for accessibility enquiries: Carolyn Tovell

Welcome

RSPB Otmoor nature reserve is nestled close to Oxford where tranquility and wildlife reign. Watch lapwings perform their tumbling aerial displays from the visitor trail in spring. Explore the trail further towards the reedbed and you may hear the bittern booming. Listen to the whistling winter wigeon as they graze the fields and wait for sunsets that fill the Otmoor skies. In summer wander through the brightly coloured meadows. Look for dragonflies and damselflies whizzing over water in hunt for a mate. New shoots in the hedgerows attract roe deer. Arrive early in the morning to hear the chorus of birds singing, and be in with the chance of seeing an otter swimming gracefully along the waterways.

At a Glance

Level Access

- There is level access from the main entrance to:
- The hide entrance has level access.

Getting here

RSPB OTMOOR
Otmoor Lane
Oxford
OX3 9TD

Travel by public transport

- You can get to RSPB Otmoor by bus.
- Buses run infrequently between Oxford and the village of Beckley (just over a mile from the reserve). There is no public transport links from Beckley to the reserve. The bus stop is 1 miles / 1.6 km from RSPB Otmoor.
- The buses run very infrequently and it is essential to check the timetables before travelling.

Parking

- We have a car park. The parking is less than 50 metres from the main entrance. There is a £2 per car charge for reserve entry.
- There is a drop-off point at the main entrance. The drop-off point has a dropped kerb.
- From the car park to the entrance, there is level access. The car park is located at the main gateway into the nature reserve. There is car parking for 30 cars and there are no reserved or blue badge car parking spaces. The car park has space for three bicycles. There is no lighting in the car park and the surface of the car park is compacted stone which may be uneven.

Car parking facilities

Space for three bicycles

Modular board in the car park. This board has information on recent sightings and a copy of the site map.

Arrival

Path to main entrance

- From the street to the main entrance, there is level access.

Main entrance

- The main entrance has level access.
- Otmoor has no visitor centre or reception. Entrance is through the kissing gate accessed from the car park. The kissing gate has a clearance of 130 cm and leads onto a wide track ~2m wide which is made of compacted stone.

Main entrance to the reserve

Kissing gate at the main entrance

Compacted stone trail after the entrance gate

Getting around inside

Getting around outside

Designated Walking Trail

Visitor Trail

- The trail is 4880metres long. The trail is sloped. The trail has seats. There are bird hides along the trail.
- After entering the reserve through the kissing gate there is a compacted stone path measuring ~2m in width. 330m from the car park is a bench with no back or arm support, overlooking an area of bird feeders.
The path then goes up a slope to join the bridleway, this path is ~100cm wide but may narrow to 80cm in places. The bridleway has a compacted stone path, however this does become muddy when wet. There is a second bench 550m from the first, this bench has back support. 1.1km from the car park is the Wetlands Watch hide. This can be accessed on the left of the bridleway.

To the right of the bridleway through a kissing gate with a clearance of 130 cm there is a compacted stone trail leading to the viewing screens. The path is ~90cm wide but narrows to 60cm in places. Just after the kissing gate is a bench with no back support or arm rests this bench is 1.18km from the car park.

The first screen has two means of access firstly a ramp with no handrail and secondly 4 steps with handrails. The screen is not fully covered overhead, and has benches with no back or arm support. The first viewing screen is 1.6km from the car park and 490m from the previous bench.

470m from the first viewing screen is a bench with no back support or arm rests. 400m further on from this bench is the second viewing screen. The second screen can be accessed from a ramp, this ramp has no hand rail. As with the first viewing screen it is not fully covered overhead and has benches inside with no back support or arm rests. This screen is 2.4km from the car park. Going to the second screen and back is a total distance of 4.88km

Compact stone path at the main entrance to the reserve

Bridleway becomes muddy when wet

Ramp into the Wetland Watch hide

Moveable chairs in the Wetland Watch hide

Kissing gate on the path to the viewing screens

Compact stone path to the viewing screens

Ramp to the first viewing screen

Bench with no back support or arm rests in the viewing screen

Entrance into the first viewing screen

Bench with no back support or arm rests, between viewing screens

Ramp to the second screen

Partially covered second viewing screen

Designated Walking Trail

July's Meadow

- The trail is 155metres long. Some of the trail has a loose surface.
- Continuing past the Wetland Watch hide is a kissing gate with a clearance of 130cm. This leads to a track ~2m wide and made of compact stone which goes to Julys Meadow. The field this track goes across does contain cattle seasonally. There is a kissing gate at the end of this track which has a width of 120cm. The track past this gate is not surfaced and gets muddy when wet. Turning left here brings you to the kissing gate leading into the lower end of Julys Meadow. Turning right joins the footpath which goes around Julys Meadow a second kissing gate at the other side of the field.

The first kissing gate leading into the lower end of the meadow has a clearance of 95cm. The path through the meadow is narrow and uneven with no surface and so becomes muddy when wet. The kissing gate at the far end of the meadow path has a clearance of 120cm.

Kissing gate at the beginning of the trail

Kissing gate at the end of the trail before turning either left or right around July's Meadow

Designated Walking Trail

Seasonal trail

- The trail is 180metres long.
- The seasonal trail opens only when ground conditions allow and not during the breeding season. There are two access points to this trail: the first just after the first entrance from the car park, and the second 190m along the visitor trail. At both entrances there are kissing gates with a clearance of 70cm. The trail is not surfaced, it is uneven and becomes muddy when wet. There are two trails available of varying length.

Entrance to the seasonal trail through a kissing gate by the main entrance to the reserve.

Second entrance to the seasonal trail through a kissing gate

The Wetland Watch

- At the hide entrance, there is level access. There is a permanent ramp. The door is 1100.00mm wide.
- There are low windows in the hide, so wheelchair users can see outside.

Customer care support

---

Guide last updated: 5 July 2019