

RSPB Pagham Harbour & Medmerry

Key

- Sea and seawater
- Freshwater
- Pasture
- Shingle
- Reedbed
- Intertidal mudflats
- Farmland
- Woodland
- Saline lagoons
- Intertidal saltmarsh
- Wild bird seed crop
- V Visitor centre
- H Hide
- V Viewpoint
- T Toilets
- P Car park
- Q Discovery zone
- ! Hazard warning
- Paths inaccessible at high tide
- Public footpaths
- Wheelchair accessible path
- Permissive footpaths
- Bill Way Cycle Route 88
- Discovery trail
- Church Norton trail
- North Wall trail
- Public footpath and permissive bridleway and cycle path
- Public footpath and permissive cycle path
- Medmerry Cycle Link

The Breach
No access due to dangerous tidal currents and soft mud. Please do not attempt to cross the breach.

In summer, listen for sedge warblers singing in the Ham reedbed.

You are here

This pool is busy with bird life especially at high tides.

Listen for noisy warblers in the reedbeds alongside the Long Pool.

13th century St. Wilfrid's Chapel is well worth a visit.

No access due to dangerous tidal currents and soft mud. Please do not attempt to cross the harbour entrance.

The best spot to take a seat and admire wading birds and little terns.

In winter, this is a great place to sea-watch, to look for divers, grebes and sea-ducks.

The Stilt Pools are home to avocets in spring and teals in the winter.

Working together to give nature a home:

